

Creating Your Branching Database

Step 1: Go to <https://www.j2e.com/j2data> and click Branch

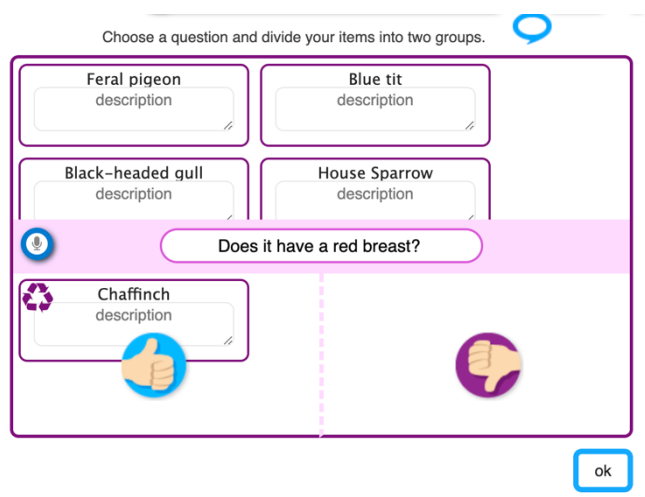

Step 2: Add in the 12 birds from the RSPB list by clicking the blue W and typing them into the Abc... box. Click the blue plus button when you are ready to add them. You may also want to add any birds you know are common to your area.

Step 3: Click the advanced option to add text about each bird. You may wish to look this up using your RSPB's Bird ID Guides (your teacher can download these from their RSPB email*) or conduct internet research (with your teacher's permission). When you have finished, click sort.

Step 4: When researching, think about some of the features of the birds that make them different from one another. E.g. Does it have a red breast? Next, type your question into the box. You then need to drag and drop all the birds into either the box with thumbs up for yes or thumbs down for no, depending on the answer. Click 'ok' when you have finished. Don't worry if you put one in the wrong box, you can always drag it across to the correct one.

Step 5: Repeat this step until you have classified all the birds.

Step 6: Once you have finished, your classification guide will be ready to use!*

Note to teachers

You may wish for your students to screenshot their branching databases as evidence for their books.

Bird guides can be downloaded from your email when you register.

Yna, mae angen i chi lusgo a gollwng yr holl adar naill ai yn y blwch gyda bawd i fyny ar gyfer oes neu'r blwch gyda bawd i lawr ar gyfer nac oes, yn dibynnu ar yr ateb. Cliciwch iawn (ok) pan fyddwch chi wedi gorffen. Peidiwch â phoeni os byddwch chi'n rhoi un yn y blwch anghywir, gallwch wastad ei lusgo i'r un cywir.

Cam 5: Gwnewch y cam hwn eto nes eich bod wedi dosbarthu'r holl adar.
